Grievance Description : judiciary: When judiciary fails to deliver justice, where to appeal? Case filed in the Supreme Court (Civil Appeal 10126 of 2010), regarding under-weighting of LPG refills involving over Rs. 65,000 cr. As per Consumer Protection Act a minimum of Rs. 3,250 cr. should have been awarded as penalty, against IOCL. The Supreme Court failed to address this issue, in spite of subsequent Review and Curative Petitions. Incidentally, on our initiative, 184 LPG Bottling Plants automated and crores have benefited.

Poor

I expected an issue of this nature will be addressed with more seriousness. As a matter of fact, I am a member of CCC, which is managing the CORE Centre. If the government is serious about ensuring a self-sustaining consumer movement, it cannot wish away the serious lapses on the part of the Supreme Court. It should rather file a second Curative Petition if it wants to eliminate Unfair Trade Practices. Please visit our website www.adunhccconsumer.com or contact me if you need any
